Kirindy Forest Reserve & Avenue of the Baobabs

~ Combines well with Tsingy de Bemaraha National Park ~

Kirindy Forest Reserve

The 12,500 ha Kirindy Forest Reserve has the greatest density and diversity of primates in the world. It is also the best western-reserve for seeing Madagascar's endemic dry forest species. The forest is a very rich reserve and home to the Fosa and Giant Jumping Rat.

Dominated by majestic Baobab trees (Adansonia rubrostipa et Za), Adansonia Grandidieri are found just next to the village of Kirindy, the forest is home to the world's smallest known primate as well as dozens of amphibian and reptile species (and no poisonous snakes!).

The Kirindy boasts more than 60 species of birds. Possible endemic sightings include: White-headed Vanga, Rufous Vanga, White-breasted Mesite, Coquerel's Coua, Sickie-billed Vanga, Chabert's Vanga, Cuckoo Roller, Grey-headed Lovebird, Madagascar Nightjar, and Banded Kestrel.

Along with a stunning variety of unique flora; the Kirindy Forest is home to 8 lemur species as well as a variety of tenrecs species and the narrow-striped mongoose.
